

STUDENT MANUAL

WELCOME TO DFW COMBAT!

Dear Student,

Welcome to DFW Combat Co. (DFWCC). I am happy that you made the decision to join our community and my instructors, and I look forward to helping you on your personal journey! We welcome you into our little family, and I hope we will share many fruitful years of training with you.

This Student Manual is designed to assist you in getting acquainted with our policies and procedures. Here, I will also cover helpful information based on most frequently asked questions from our new students.

I strongly encourage you to read this handbook in its entirety during your first month of training. Here, I will try to address the most common questions and concerns in this handbook, but if there's anything else you need or if you have any billing or account-related questions, feel free to email me at info@dfwcombat.com.

Welcome again to the DFWCC community. Get ready for a life-changing experience!

See you on the mat,

MISSION STATEMENT

"We are dedicated to positively impacting our community by empowering individuals, offering exceptional training, and fostering a culture of self-improvement."

OUR STORY

HISTORY OF FOUNDER JACK BOLOWSKIE

To be a great instructor, one must first be a great student. To truly understand the legacy of our founder, Mr. Jack Bolowskie, we must first look at the genesis of his own 30 year martial arts journey.

Jack's journey began in 1984 when he decided to start training martial arts at the age of 36 under Master Hee Doak Park. The following year, Jack embarked on his first of three trips to Korea where he would become a part of the "1st USA – Korea Tae Kwon Do Friendship Tour".

Mr. Bolowskie continued his training and received his 1st Dan Certificate in Moo Duk Kwon Tae Kwon Do in 1988. During this time he also trained in Aikido under Instructors Bob Mason and Joe Birdsong. In 1993, Jack began his studies in Tang Soo Do under Grandmaster Darryl Khalid.

Jack's second trip to Korea came in 1995 which included training with Grandmaster Hwan Kee, founder of Moo Duk Kwon during the "50th Anniversary of Moo Duk Kwon" ceremonies. Upon his return, Jack began his training in Han Mu Do (Hapkido) under Grandmaster He-Young Kimm and Grandmaster J.R. West.

In 1997, Mr. Bolowskie took his third trip to Korea, this time with the World Han Mu Do Association. During this trip, Jack was provided an opportunity to be one of the first Westerners to train in Sun Do with Grandmaster Han Pul. During this trip, Jack also trained in the art of Kyung Ju with Buddhist monks at Kol Kuk Su Temple as well as training in swords and long pole techniques from Grandmaster Lim Dong Kyu in the mountains near Kyung Dang.

By 1998, Jack Bolowskie had received his 4th Dan Masters Certificate in Tang Soo Do, 5th Dan Masters Certificate in Tae Kwon Do, and 2nd Dan Certificate in Han Mu Do.

KRAV MAGA DFW

With all of his martial arts accomplishments, Jack continued his training; this time in an Israeli self defense system called Krav Maga, which was not yet widely known. Jack Bolowskie ultimately became a member of The First Class of U.S. Certified Krav Maga instructors in 1999 under Darren Levine, founder of Krav Maga Worldwide and John Whitman, founder of Krav Maga Alliance.

Jack Bolowskie, who was already a 10 year owner of Family Martial Arts Center, started Unlimited Martial Arts in 1999 teaching traditional martial arts and Krav Maga to his students.

By 2005 Jack opened the doors to Krav Maga DFW, which was the first full-time Krav Maga studio in North Texas. By this time, Jack was a certified Personal Defense Readiness Instructor and a Ballistic Micro Fight Instructor under Tony Blauer. He also received certifications in Fierce Israeli Guerilla Hand-to-Hand Tactics (F.I.G.H.T.), Ground Survival, and Tactical Knife Fighting under Mike Lee Kanarek.

Jack Bolowskie has positively influenced thousands of people during his martial arts career. Today Jack is retired, having trained thousands of students and instructors to carry on his knowledge. His students excel not only in physical technique but also in the ability to handle any situation mentally and emotionally.

Today DFW Combat Co. carries on Jack's legacy of training excellence, integrity, and building moral character through martial arts. His influence still permeates the way our programs to this day and will continue to do so well into the future.

CHIEF INSTRUCTOR/OWNER

DANIEL HINES

In 2014, Daniel Hines left a career in the scientific/medical field to pursue his lifelong passion of training and teaching martial arts and has not looked back since. Daniel is now the owner and Chief Instructor at DFW Combat Co. and works every day to provide all the members and instructors the best training experience possible. He has trained with this gym through its various incarnations since 1994 and carries on its mission into the future.

Daniel brings with him over 28 years of extensive martial arts experience and currently holds the rank of 3rd degree black belt in Krav Maga under Krav Maga Alliance founder, John Whitman. He is also a member of the Krav Maga Alliance Training Team; a group of elite instructor trainers who certify new instructors around the world. Keep an eye out for guest instructors from other Krav schools coming to Dallas to complete a certification!

Further accomplishments include;

- KMA Force (Military/Law Enforcement) Instructor Trainer
- Young Warriors Krav Maga instructor
- Certified StrikeFit instructor
- 3rd degree black belt in Tang Soo Do
- 1st degree black belt in Han Mu Do

GETTING STARTED

BEFORE CLASS:

Please arrive 10 to 15 minutes prior to class starting so you can warm up and so the class can start on time. If you arrive late, please check in with the instructor so they can put you where you need to be.

For safety among many other reasons, students should take extra care in maintaining proper hygiene prior to training.

The list below defines hygiene expectations for all DFWCC members:

Fingernails and toenails should always be trimmed with no sharp edges

Any open cuts or wounds should be properly sterilized and dressed while training

Clean clothes should be worn for each class when attending multiple classes

No heavy cologne or perfume

No outside shoes on the training mats (no exceptions)

Bathe regularly

Do not come to class if sick or showing sick symptoms

GETTING STARTED

Training attire: each class will provide different kinds of training and as such each class will have different requirements for attire. To make sure everyone is appropriately attired and to promote a team mindset, we require a simple uniform in each class. Wear your DFWCC Team shirt or rashguard to each class. Also, please wear a clean shirt to each class.

Footwear: For hygienic purposes, footwear for training MUST be clean and used exclusively for training on mats. Shoes worn outside the mats, including lobby area and restrooms, are not allowed for on the mat. Proper footwear is recommended for Krav Maga classes, however, some students choose to train barefoot which is also acceptable. Shoes are not allowed in BJJ or Muay Thai.

Training Gear: In addition to your uniform you will also be required to purchase your own training equipment for each class. Most of the required equipment is available in our pro shop, and we offer discounts for buying all your gear at once.

- Krav Maga: Boxing gloves, shin pads
- Boxing: boxing gloves (wraps optional)
- BJJ: gi with DFWCC patches or team rashguard
- Muay Thai: boxing gloves, shin pads, Thai shorts
- Heavy Bag: Boxing gloves or MMA gloves
- Recommended for all classes (except fitness): mouthpiece and groin protection

GETTING STARTED

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

- Follow all instructions from DFWCC staff and instructors at all times.
- Do not talk over instruction. Be respectful of the instructors and other students by not talking once "time" is called
- Register for classes in advance using the Member App or the portal on the website
- Arrive on time for the start of each class
- Have all necessary training equipment and uniform for each class. Bring a separate set of clothes for each class, if attending multiple classes.
- Remove any loose jewelry or other articles of clothing that may cause risk of injury during class
- No outside shoes permitted on training floors. Indoor "mat-only" shoes are permitted as long as they are ONLY worn on the mats, they do not damage training surfaces, and are appropriate for the class (i.e. no shoes allowed in Muay Thai or BJJ).
- All class participants must have proper hygiene: bathe regularly, wear clean attire each class, trim hair and nails to acceptable lengths, refrain from wearing strong perfumes or colognes, and take proper care of your training equipment.
- No live weapons of any kind are permitted on the training floor
- No photos or video recording without express permission
- Refrain from using foul language or other offensive behavior
- Support other students and understand that each student has equal right to train.
- Clean any and all equipment used and make sure equipment is stored properly after classes have concluded.
- Students are not allowed to train under the influence of drugs or alcohol
- Use your skills for good. The training we provide is intended to improve physical wellness, self improvement, sport, and personal security; and should never be used to provoke or harass anyone or conduct any illegal activity.

DRESS CODE

At DFW Combat Co. we try to promote an atmosphere of professionalism and team spirit, so we ask that everyone who trains at our facility wears a team shirt, gi, or rashguard. We want to make sure students are appropriately attired, but also we want to put everyone on a more equal footing and avoid anyone being judged for what they're wearing.

We want to run a great gym and training team, and great teams proudly display their team affiliation through how they dress. Putting on the team shirt focuses your mindset, and every time you step on the mat you should be saying "I am part of this team, and I am here to work."

All students must wear a clean DFW Combat Team shirt or rashguard to each class.

We don't want this to create an undue burden, so we give you a free shirt once you sign up. You can also redeem rewards points for free shirts as you continue training, and we actually give away more shirts than we sell. This is important to us, so we make it as easy as we can for all students.

PRO SHOP

Need some new gear? Our pro shop has gloves, shin pads, gis, rashguards, supplements, and basically all the supplies and equipment you'll need to succeed in training.

We only keep one or two designs in stock at the gym, but if you visit our online pro shop you can see a wide variety of other styles, sizes, and colors. These will ship directly to you and prices include shipping!

BOOKING CLASSES

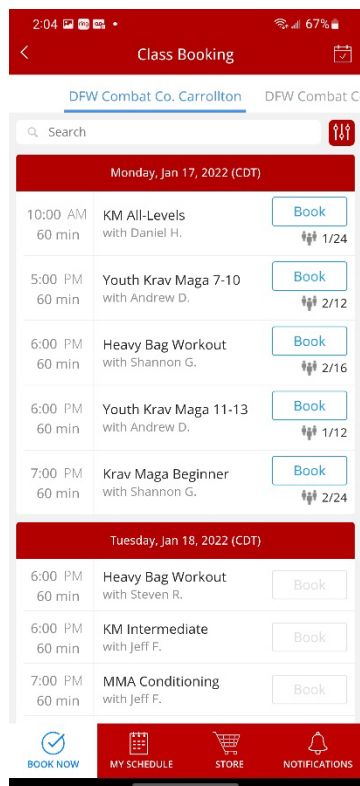

All students are required to reserve a spot in class in advance using either the member app or the web portal on our website. This serves multiple purposes:

- Lets the instructor know who's coming so they can prepare classes appropriately
- We can make sure we have enough space or other resources (e.g. heavy bags) for everyone
- If we have to cancel last minute (like if the instructor's car breaks down) then we know who to notify – you will receive an email, text, and push notification if that's the case.

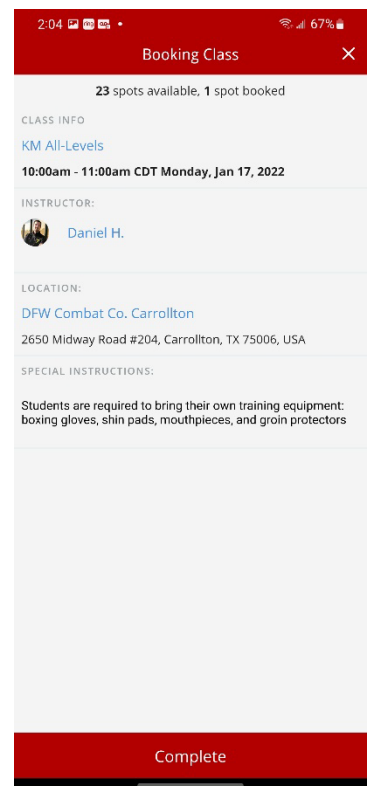

HOW TO RESERVE A SPOT:

1. LOG IN TO THE DFW COMBAT MEMBER APP

2. SELECT THE CLASS YOU WANT

3. HIT 'COMPLETE'

AFTER CLASS

We request that all students sanitize and organize any equipment used during class. This includes any heavy bags, striking shields, focus mitts, mats, etc., that were used during the lesson. That way, we ensure the next class has a neat, safe training area. Cleaning stations with blue cleaning towels and cleaning spray are located throughout the studio. Additionally, students should throw away any of their empty drink bottles and other trash accumulated during class.

Please treat the studio with respect and leave it cleaner than you found it.

Any items left overnight will be moved to the lost and found bin. Any unclaimed items over 30 calendar days may be thrown away or donated at our discretion.

Need to take a shower?

No problem! We have shower facilities available for students if they need to freshen up before leaving. We do ask that you please let an instructor or staff member know you'll be taking a shower so we don't lock you in the gym accidentally. Yes, really.

MANAGING YOUR ACCOUNT

All members will have access to their profiles through our app, but there is a lot more functionality and ease-of-use through the member portal, accessible through a desktop computer. There, students will be able to sign-in to classes, access account information, visit history, upcoming events, shop at our online store, see their rewards points, and more.

Membership Holds

Going out of town for a while? Sick? Not able to train for a while? Put your membership on a temporary hold so you keep getting the full value for your membership payments. Members in good standing can put their accounts on hold anywhere from 2 weeks to 4 months at a time simply by filling out the form on our website. Any unused time or visits on your membership will be available once the hold expires, and your billing dates will be pushed back by the length of the hold.

dfwcombat.com>>members>>hold request form

Membership Cancellations

We get it, life happens sometimes. All you have to do to terminate your membership is fill out the cancellation form on our website. We do have a cancellation policy, so if your next bill is due within a certain period before your renewal date you will be charged for one more billing cycle, but after that there's no further obligation. The good news is that whenever you're ready to come back you won't be required to pay the registration fee again!

dfwcombat.com>>members>>cancellation form

Everything Else

You can update your payment information, sign documents, adding family members, etc. through the member portal. Any requests to change your membership (billing schedule, upgrades, whatever) should be submitted in writing to info@dfwcombat.com or using the contact form on the website.

PROGRAMS

KRAV MAGA

Krav Maga, pronounced “KRAHV muh-GAH”, translates to “contact combat” in Hebrew and has a reputation worldwide for being a simple, intuitive, and brutally effective. Krav Maga was founded in the late 1940’s for use with the Israeli Defense Forces, who needed a fighting style that could bring as their troops to a high level of proficiency as quickly as possible.

Krav Maga training focuses on principles rather than techniques because no two attacks are ever the same. No two people are the same. And, in fact, the same person confronted with a certain threat will react differently one day compared to another day. Our goal is to condition our students mentally, physically, and emotionally to do what is necessary to end a fight. We also teach a comprehensive self defense system, meaning that in addition to techniques we teach the ethics of using force. We want to make sure our students are responsible when they need to defend themselves, so we teach everything from walking away from an encounter all the way up to overwhelming aggression towards an attacker.

The Krav Maga system is based on several core principles including:

- Techniques should be movements based on natural instincts.
- Techniques must address the immediate danger.
- Techniques should defend and counterattack simultaneously whenever possible.
- Each defense should be “multipurpose;” they must work against a variety of attacks.
- The system should be integrated so that movements learned in one area of the system complement, rather than contradict, movements in another area.
- Techniques must work from a position of disadvantage.
- Training must include the stress experienced in real attacks.

KRAV MAGA

Krav Maga is not a sport. Rather, it focuses on real life self-defense and hand to hand combat situations, which are not always fair fights. Therefore, we emphasize stopping threats quickly and getting away safely. We believe that once an altercation has crossed into physical violence, it is to everyone's benefit that the fight stops as soon as possible. Basic goals of Krav Maga are simple. Practitioners are taught to avoid harm, but they need to be able to neutralize attackers by any means necessary. Brutal attacks to sensitive parts of the body like the groin, eyes, neck, and fingers are used because these areas are very difficult to condition and elicit a response from just about anyone.

Further, situational awareness and the use of available objects as improvised weapons is also encouraged when appropriate. The bottom line is that when fighting is about survival, rules of fair play go completely out the window. A Krav Maga practitioner will defend him or herself using any means necessary and will never, ever quit until they are safe.

IMI LICHTENFELD

Imi Lichtenfeld was born in Budapest in the Austro-Hungarian Empire in 1910. However, he grew up in Pozsony, which is now called Bratislava. His father, Samuel Lichtenfeld, had a great influence on his life. Samuel was a chief inspector with the Bratislava police force and was known for a considerable and impressive arrest record. Samuel taught self-defense and young Imi trained under him, eventually becoming a successful boxer and wrestler with national and international championships. Eventually, Imi even became a member of the Slovakian National Wrestling Team.

During the 1930's Imi was forced to protect himself and sometimes his community against fascists. His experience in the streets combined with sport fighting and training with his father all came together for him. Imi realized that real world self-defense was not the same as sport fighting and began to build a repertoire of useful techniques as a result of this.

Unfortunately for him, the effectiveness of those techniques made him quite unpopular with authorities in the World War II, Nazi-fearing society of the late 1930's. Therefore, he was forced to flee his homeland for Palestine in 1940.

Soon after his arrival, Imi began teaching self-defense to a paramilitary organization called Haganah while helping his comrades create the independent state of Israel.

IMI LICHTENFELD

When the Haganah eventually incorporated into the Israeli Defense Force, Imi became the Chief Instructor of Physical Training and the foremost teacher of "Krav Maga," how his martial arts style had become known. All experts in Krav Maga lived in Israel at that time, and prior to 1980 all instructors were trained under the Israeli Krav Maga Association. However, in 1981 a group of six Krav Maga instructors brought Krav Maga to America, starting their own facilities stateside and training their own students. This spiked American interest and compelled 22 Americans to travel to Israel in 1981 to attend a basic Krav Maga instructor course. Those that passed this rigorous course brought what they had learned back to the U.S., incorporating Krav Maga into the fabric of American culture.

KRAV MAGA ALLIANCE

Krav Maga Alliance and Founder John Whitman

Krav Maga Alliance (KMA) is an organization dedicated to maintaining consistency in technique and teaching quality among Krav Maga practitioners across the globe. It offers certifications for civilian and police/military instructors, as well as advanced-level training. While KMDFW is our own autonomous, independently-owned business, our affiliation with KMA requires us to maintain their high standards of excellence. In return, our instructors receive continual updates on technique and training methods which we use to maintain our high standard of excellence.

The Krav Maga Alliance was founded by John Whitman, a sixth degree black belt in Krav Maga. John is the former president of Krav Maga Worldwide, and earned instructor degrees from the Krav Maga Association of America, Krav Maga Worldwide, and the prestigious Wingate University in Israel. He is the first person to have earned a Senior Instructor diploma from Wingate in Israel. He has trained thousands of civilians and hundreds of law enforcement and military personnel, including the Air Force's Office of Special Investigations Antiterrorist Specialty Team. John is the co-author of COMPLETE KRAV MAGA and KRAV MAGA FOR BEGINNERS. He was a leading participant in the creation and refinement of the Instructor Training Program used by Krav Maga Worldwide, a program he headed for over 7 years. For more information about KMA, visit: www.kravmagaalliance.com.

KRAV MAGA

Our Krav Maga program is meant to focus only on practical self defense, meaning that in addition to effective techniques to incapacitate your attacker we also teach responsible use of force and de-escalation. A self defense situation isn't about "winning," but instead about ending the threat. If you can end a fight by walking away or talking to someone, that's what you should do, and our training reflects that. However, often you don't have that option and your only means of defending yourself is to physically neutralize your attacker.

Our instructors each have several years' experience as a student of Krav Maga and receive years of extensive training specifically addressing how to relate concepts to students. As instructors we strive to make each student realize their own potential and continue to improve the wonderful community we've created.

Krav Maga training includes simple but powerful strikes, straightforward self defense techniques and realistic drills meant to simulate the stress of a real attack. It takes time to develop the physical attributes necessary to survive a fight, but through dedicated drills and focused, individual coaching we strive to accelerate that process as much as possible

A new student to in Krav Maga is considered a White Belt (level 0) practitioner. As you progress through the program and gain experience you will be allowed to attend higher-level classes.

Krav Maga Fundamentals (Yellow Belt Curriculum)

This class is designed for beginners, so students of any fitness or experience level are welcome. With a rotating lesson plan, students will learn the basics of self defense including simple strikes, choke defenses, basic ground fighting, and an introduction to unarmed weapons defense. Students at this level will become familiar with the key principles of Krav Maga as well as develop safe training habits. Drills in this class may simulate aspects of street fighting under relatively low to moderate stress conditions.

KM All-Levels

This class is open to students of all levels and is a great supplement to the level-specific classes. Lesson plans are individually planned by the instructor and will primarily include Yellow Belt to Green Belt material. One of the greatest benefits of this program is that it allows students to see techniques and principles of Krav Maga as they are applied in higher levels of the system and in a wider variety of situations.

KRAV MAGA

Krav Maga Core Concepts (Yellow, Orange, Green, and Blue belts)

Once you have passed your Yellow Belt test you are welcome to attend the KM Core Concepts, where the focus shifts from getting out of a bad situation to training for what happens after, and when things go sideways. In this class we do more sparring and sparring drills, ground fighting, and weapons training. This is where Krav Maga really starts looking like a real fight.

KM Advanced (Blue, Brown, and Black belts)

This is where we make Krav Maga training as realistic as possible and add as much resistance as we can safely. We address threats against multiple attackers, 3rd party protection, weapon-on-weapon training and improvised weapons, and training begins to look more like the original incarnation of Krav Maga as a military combatives system.

KRAV MAGA RANK PROGRESSION

Krav Maga is not a traditional martial art or a sport martial art; rather it is a self-defense and combat system. While there are 6 levels/belts in the Krav Maga Alliance system, DFW Combat does not necessarily require its student members to participate in a belt test for advancement to upper level classes. We realize this is either not practical or desirable for each student, so we provide an alternative means for advancement.

However, It is important to understand that you will not be recognized as an official rank/belt with Krav Maga Alliance or DFW Combat if you decide to progress without participating in belt tests. Therefore, if one of your goals is to become an officially ranked Krav Maga practitioner, you must participate in belt tests and successfully pass the test in addition to fulfilling all of the requirements listed above.

At DFWCC, we take your progress seriously and we are committed to giving our students honest and realistic feedback. Our goal is to give you coaching at each level of your journey and get anyone with the drive and dedication all the way to black belt.

KRAV MAGA RANK PROGRESSION

The timeline below displays the recommended length of training time and class prerequisites for progressing to the next level. This timeline may be longer or shorter based on the individual student. As you progress in Krav Maga, more cross-training in BJJ and Muay Thai is required. This is meant to progress your grappling and striking skills and better prepare you for greater challenges at advanced levels.

KRAV MAGA BELT TESTING

A Krav Maga belt test is a thing of beauty. Each test lasts over four hours and is a showcase for each student's physical, technical, mental, and emotional strength. During the test, your limits will be tested, but at the end you will have the privilege of receiving a DFW Combat Co. Certificate of Rank and you will be able to attend higher-level classes. For more advanced belts, the test includes much more sparring, ground fighting, defenses against armed attackers, and fighting multiple attackers. Check the event schedule on the website for information and to register.

Instructor approval is required to register for a belt test

- The fee for belt tests is a one-time, non-refundable $75. If you have to re-take the test you will not be required to pay again.
- Train hard and come prepared! Bring lots of water and a few snacks. Boxing gloves, shin pads, and mouthpieces are required.
- You will receive a certificate upon completion of your belt test. Hang it somewhere all your friends and family can see!
- A midterm is a free, comprehensive review available to any students training at or above the curriculum covered. You do not need permission to attend, but you must register in advance.

KRAV MAGA CURRICULUM

The entire Krav Maga curriculum for adults can be found on our website. We encourage every student to print their level specific curriculum and review them as they train. This curriculum serves as the basis for rotating lessons plans in our daily classes, and we strive to cover the whole curriculum at each class level at regular intervals.

BRAZILIAN JIU JITSU

Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu has roots in traditional Judo fundamentals and has since been adapted into its own sport. Codified in Brazil under the Gracie family, BJJ teaches how to control or disable another person through takedowns, pins, joint locks, and chokes. Proper technique involves an understanding of leverage and basic principles of biomechanics and physics, and a skilled practitioner can effectively neutralize a much larger and/or stronger opponent.

Beyond that, BJJ is an entirely unique culture within the martial arts world. At our gym you'll be welcomed onto our team, and during training egos are left at the door. Training is meant to benefit everyone, and many lifelong friendships have been made on the mat.

RONNIE WEDDLE

As head coach for the BJJ program, Ronnie brings a common-sense approach to grappling. He views Brazilian Jiu Jitsu as a tool for self defense first and foremost, and believes a student should have a practical basis for the skills they seek to gain in training. Fancy techniques and gimmick guard positions won't help you in a street fight, so instead he prioritizes mastery of the fundamentals.

Some of Ronnie's Credentials:

3rd Degree Krav Maga Black Belt Instructor, Krav Maga Alliance

KMA Force (Military and Law Enforcement) Instructor Trainer

Gracie Survival Tactics Level II Instructor

Firearms Instructor

BRAZILIAN JIU JITSU

Gi Class

In this class you will wear the traditional BJJ uniform which consists of pants, a jacket, and a belt; all of which can be gripped to use for control or for submissions. We recommend beginners start in the gi class because the extra cloth forces students to develop defensive techniques, which is absolutely essential for all levels of Jiu-jitsu play.

No-Gi Class

Here students wear a rashguard and board shorts, and because of the lack of cloth grabs students have to be more careful about their control positions and offensive techniques. This class is perhaps more directly applicable to self defense situations.

MUAY THAI

Muay Thai I (boxing gloves and shin pads required)

The Art of Eight Limbs is much more than the traditional notions of “kickboxing.” For the Nak Muay, training is a spiritual journey where competition, courage, and physical prowess are supremely important. The beginner Muay Thai class teaches you the basics of striking, clinch work, and fight tactics. We also embrace the unique culture of Muay Thai training, where everyone in class is your brother or sister. We train hard, respect each other, and have fun!

Muay Thai II (boxing gloves and shin pads required)

This class is meant for the more experienced Muay Thai athletes as an opportunity to put their skills together in sparring drills and sparring practice. This class is absolutely essential for any athlete to compete, especially since you will get a chance to work against a wide variety of skills sets and styles. Instructor permission is required to attend this class.

GEORGE STALLWORTH

Coach George is the head of the DFW Combat Co. Muay Thai program and leader of the DFWCC Fight Team. He comes from a long background in martial arts, from Shotokan Karate to boxing, MMA, and BJJ; but his love is definitely in his Muay Thai practice.

George is an experienced personal trainer, fighter, and coach who constantly seeks self-improvement and hopes to help others do the same. He has grown our fight team to bring in multiple belts and titles, and is constantly training with some of the best names in the business to bring back the highest-level knowledge and practices to our gym.

BOXING/SPARRING

Boxing (boxing glove, mouthpiece required)

This class is your introduction to the sweet science of boxing, where you'll learn correct punching technique, footwork, and fight tactics. This is also a conditioning-heavy class where you can expect to spend a good amount of time working a heavy bag or doing focus mitt work with partners to get you into fighting shape. We don't just give you combos and send you on your way – we will actually give you individual feedback so right from the start you're practicing good technique.

Sparring (boxing gloves, shin pads, mouthpiece, and groin protection required)

Sparring class is a chance for students to practice their skills against opponents in a controlled setting. Whether you're training for self defense or sports, this class is a must for anyone who has progressed into the Core Concepts level. Here you will go beyond learning simple mechanics and into application and theory. We believe in sparring at a technical pace so we are training good habits as much as possible.

YOUTH PROGRAM

We offer a variety of class types for our kids, covering a number of situations and use cases, but the main goal of all of our programs is to develop strong athletes and to build strong character traits in our students. Essentially, we view our martial arts training not just as a fun sport but also as a vehicle to teach virtues like integrity, concentration, respect, self control, humility, and perseverance. We firmly believe these are the most valuable things we can teach

Youth Krav Maga (boxing gloves, shin pads, and mouthpiece required)

Similar to our adult program, this class blends concepts from striking and grappling to handle real-life situations such as kidnapping and bullying. There is a clearly defined curriculum and rank progression for the Krav Maga program, and students will be able to gain rank and experience to prepare them for the adult program.

YOUTH PROGRAM

We offer combat sports training for our young students, and while participation in competitions is encouraged, it is not strictly necessary. We believe competition can help bring out the best in athletic potential, but it can also teach about sportsmanship, fair play, determination, and teamwork. Essentially, we view our martial arts training not just as a fun sport but also as a vehicle to teach these values and that these are the most valuable things we can teach

Youth Muay Thai (Thai shorts, boxing gloves, shin pads, and mouthpiece required)

Just like in the adult class, students here will learn the basics of Muay Thai and have an opportunity to compete if they wish. Youth competition, however, is based around point sparring and skill development instead of racking up titles. The point is to get young athletes as much experience as possible in a safe, technically-focused environment so that they have greater confidence and ability later in their careers.

FITNESS AND CONDITIONING

Heavy Bag Workout (boxing gloves or MMA gloves required)

Develop greater endurance and striking power with a healthy dose of heavy bag training! Throughout this session you will work on striking combinations including punches, kicks, elbows, knees, and many other fighting movements; all meant to improve your technique while also improving your power and endurance. No matter who you are or what shape you're in, this class will push you to your limits.

Kettle Bell Conditioning

Want to build explosive power and killer core strength? Anyone familiar with the Russian-designed kettle bell can tell you how brutally effective this tool is in a conditioning workout. Each routine is focused around gaining technical knowledge of key kettlebell movements, and while you will get stronger as a result you will also learn how to use your existing strength more efficiently. This program is designed to build functional, explosive strength and fighting endurance in a format that is also fun and engaging.

FITNESS AND CONDITIONING

Mace and Mobility

Because focusing only on intense workouts can lead to all sorts of problems, we have sessions dedicated towards balance, recovery, and releasing tension. These classes serve as an excellent accompaniment all of our other classes, and with regular participation you will see increased flexibility, reduced risk of injury, and possibly even an improvement to your mood!

MMA Conditioning

Explore a mix of heavy bag work, strength training, circuit training, and pad work in this well-rounded workout meant to develop skill as well as athletic potential. This is perhaps the most varied fitness class we offer, as it addresses all aspects of combat sports fitness.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

KMA Force is the military and law enforcement division of the Krav Maga Alliance, dedicated to providing training for law enforcement and military organizations around the world. We realize police have their own specific technical and legal requirements and training should reflect the inherent differences in their mission, mindset, and tools.

Therefore, our Force curriculum and LED-only classes cater specifically to the needs of law enforcement personnel using the principles of Krav Maga. Training topics include weapon retention, defending against an armed attacker, arrest and control techniques, and more.

We offer training courses for Krav Maga instructors and for law enforcement officers. If you or your department are interested in training please contact us for more information.

SEMINARS AND EVENTS

As a larger and well-established gym, we are privileged to host other teams and instructors throughout the year, and seminars and special events are a big part of what we do. To get an idea, here are some of our previous events:

- Home invasion
- Carjacking
- Reading body language and pre-event indicators
- Active shooter/3rd party protection
- Fighting with concealed carry
- Women's self protection
- Guest coaching in Krav Maga, Boxing, Muay Thai, BJJ, Wrestling, and other martial arts from a variety of guest instructors

We also have a lot of social events throughout the year, including movie nights, cookouts, charity 5k runs through the DFW Combat Co. Run Club, and regular fitness challenges. We actually like each other most of the time and we act like it!

PRIVATE TRAINING

Individual Private Lessons

For students with special needs, odd schedules, or who just want a little extra training outside class, many of our coaches offer 1-on-1 training to help you with your training goals. Rates and availability will vary based on the individual coaches, but rates are typically $75 to $120 per hour. Some coaches also offer discounts for pre-paying multiple classes in advance.

Group Private Training

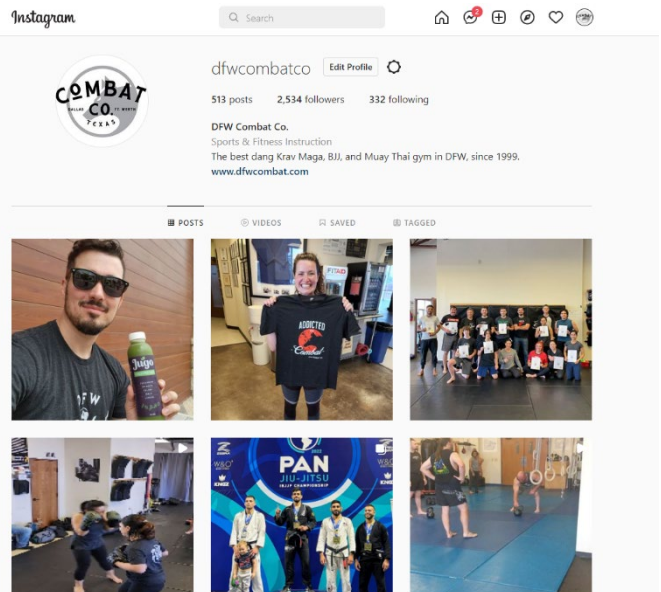

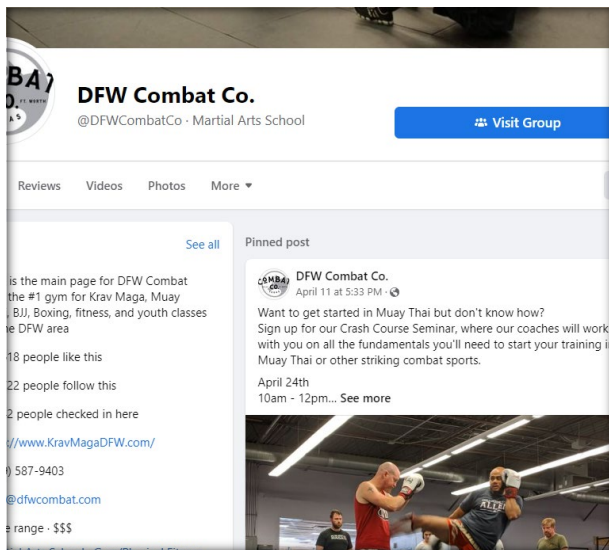

Do you have a group of friends or coworkers that are interested in some specialized training? Contact us and we'd be happy to set up a training session or series of sessions at one of our facilities, with lessons catering specifically to your group's needs. In the past we've done training for all kinds of corporate clients, schools, churches and temples, youth organizations, and all manner of nonprofits.
